WHROO. (FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

On Tuesday evening a little boy, nineteen months old, son of Mr William Wilson, of Whroo, unfortunately burnt his hand with a hot pick which was just taken out of the fire after sharpening.

On Wednesday the child appeared better, and was playing about, but on Thursday morning he was seized with convulsions and died about eleven o'clock. Dr Heily, of Rushworth, was in attendance.

A Robert Laing Wilson is in the Whroo cemetery records, buried 17 January, 1868.
