

Charles Mason

Rushworth Chronicle

11 September, 1885

Charles Mason, a well-known miner, who has been resident in this district some 32 years, expired suddenly at his residence, Coy's Diggings, on Sunday evening last, at the early age of 60 years. He had been suffering from disease of the chest for some time.

Charles Mason is included in Whroo cemetery records, buried September 1885.