

Daniel Cameron

Rushworth Chronicle

25 March, 1885

Mr D. Cameron, storekeeper, Whroo, expired after a lingering illness on Sunday.

He was a member of the well-known Cameron family, who have resided on that goldfield, and for many years followed the occupation of a miner.

He also leaves a wife and family to mourn their loss.

Whroo cemetery records, and the plaque from which they were copied, have a Daniel Cameron, buried 21 March, 1887, NOT 1885. The newspaper dated cannot be argued. There may have been an error when the cemetery list was prepared.

Note that two Camerons, without given names, appear in the records, one buried 13 June, 1880, the other buried 25 May, 1887. Neither date corresponds to the above newspaper report of March, 1885.
